Sycamore Land Trust Hires Communications Director

Sycamore Land Trust has named Abby Perfetti communications director. She previously worked for Visit Bloomington. Perfetti brings a diverse background in marketing, writing and community engagement to this new role as an environmental advocate. She is a graduate of Indiana University's School of Public and Environmental Affairs and Earlham College. As communications director, Perfetti will lead communications and marketing initiatives for Sycamore Land Trust to build the organization's reputation, membership and support. She also sings with Voces Novae chamber choir, grows vegetables in her backyard garden, volunteers for Bloomington PRIDE and serves as the vice chair for the Bloomington Arts Commission.
